Average ErgoPlus Client Lowers Costs by 78%

We Help Our Clients Succeed

Doing everything you can to keep workers safe and healthy is the right thing to do. There is no doubt or question about it; prevention should take first priority every time.

This is what we firmly believe, but we also recognize that showing the business value of OHS programs is fundamental to how a company chooses to allocate resources.

For this reason, we are frequently asked to demonstrate the business value of ErgoPlus on-site services.

By systematically reducing MSD risk factors through an on-site injury prevention specialist, we've been able to prevent injuries and improve human performance for our clients (who we consider to be partners) since we were founded in 1989.

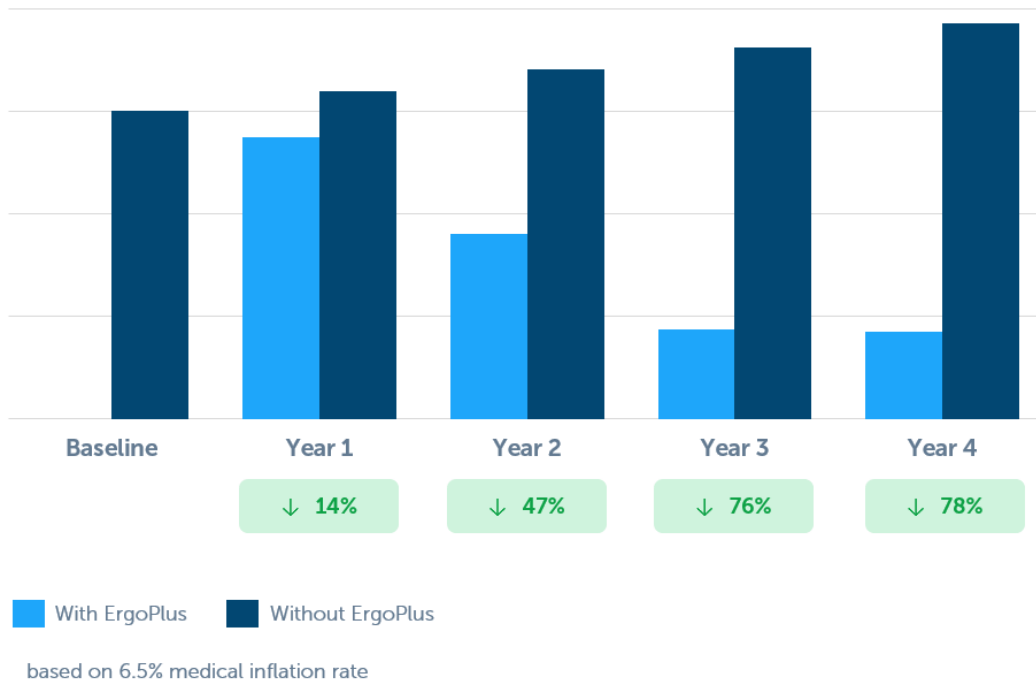

The results of this partnership are not only good for the employees who work for the company but are also great for the company's business. In other words, healthy and productive employees equal a healthy bottom line for your company. We can help you get there.

To date, we've saved our clients millions of dollars in worker's compensation and healthcare costs. More importantly, we've helped thousands of people avoid the painful experience of a musculoskeletal injury.

Our prevention-focused approach shapes a culture of prevention that propels your business and people forward. It's a virtuous cycle that accelerates health and safety excellence.

Cost Reduction Study

This study averaged the MSD cost reductions for the seventeen companies that participated in the study and includes the first four years an ErgoPlus program was implemented. The results of the study are outlined below:

Only direct medical costs were measured; based on 6.5% medical inflation rate.

You're Determined to Succeed. We're Determined to Help.

We've been helping organizations solve the musculoskeletal health problem for over 25 years. Through that experience, we've learned that each organization has a unique culture, faces unique challenges, and has unique goals.

That's why the first thing we'll do is listen. And when you share your challenges with us, we'll respond with a customized ergonomics and occupational healthcare program to help you meet your goals.

Although each deployment of the ErgoPlus System is unique, all yield impressive results.
